

Tax Hotline

June 14, 2002

PAYMENTS TO NON RESIDENTS FOR SATELLITE SIGNALS NOT LIABLE TO TAX IN INDIA, RULES INCOME TAX TRIBUNAL IN CHENNAI, INDIA

The Chennai Income Tax Tribunal (“ITAT”), in a ruling, which would impact most of the television companies in India, has held that the payment by an Indian TV company to a UK company for signals beamed from satellites would not be liable to tax in India.

Raj TV of Chennai, filed an appeal against the income tax demand on the payment made by it to the London based Reuters Television (“RTV”), which provided Raj TV with uplinking facilities through a Russian satellite, Intersputnik.

The Income Tax Department (“Department”) claimed that the payments were in the nature of royalty and fees for technical services and hence taxable in India under the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (“ITA”). The Department contended that the services were rendered in India by beaming signals across the taxable territory of India, which was utilized by local channels.

The ITAT rejected the Department’s stand. The ITAT observed that the payment was not for any right to use a specified intellectual property rights or for imparting any industrial, commercial or scientific information. The payment was for hiring transponders only. ITAT pointed out that RTV did not own the transponders through which the programmes were beamed. RTV is an international television news organization with access to satellite transponder space and uplinking facilities from time to time.

In view of the ITAT’s decision, the payment for the use of industrial, commercial or scientific equipment, which normally falls within the purview of the definition of “royalty” under Double Taxation Avoidance Agreements, is outside the scope of royalty as defined under the ITA (NOTE: Finance Act 2001 has amended the definition of royalty in the ITA with effect from April 1, 2001 to include “equipment royalty”).

The ITAT opined that the payment could also not be construed as fees for technical services. In this case, Raj TV was entitled to use the satellite, which was located outside the Indian territory and this could only be classified as a business arrangement, not provision of technical service. It could not therefore be taxed as fees for technical services.

It was held that since the payment was not subject to tax in India, Raj TV was not required to withhold tax at source while making the remittance to RTV, London.

Source : The Economic Times, June 14, 2002

DISCLAIMER

The contents of this hotline should not be construed as legal opinion. View detailed disclaimer.

This Hotline provides general information existing at the time of preparation. The Hotline is intended as a news update and Nishith Desai Associates neither assumes nor accepts any responsibility for any loss arising to any person acting or refraining from acting as a result of any material contained in this Hotline. It is recommended that professional advice be taken based on the specific facts and circumstances. This Hotline does not substitute the need to refer to the original pronouncements.

This is not a Spam mail. You have received this mail because you have either requested for it or someone must have suggested your name. Since India has no anti-spamming law, we refer to the US directive, which states that a mail cannot be considered Spam if it contains the sender's contact information, which this mail does. In case this mail doesn't concern you, please unsubscribe from mailing list.

Research Papers

M&A In The Indian Technology Sector

February 19, 2025

Unlocking Capital

February 11, 2025

Fintech

January 28, 2025

Research Articles

Re-Evaluating Press Note 3 Of 2020: Should India’s Land Borders Still Define Foreign Investment Boundaries?

February 04, 2025

INDIA 2025: The Emerging Powerhouse for Private Equity and M&A Deals

January 15, 2025

Key changes to Model Concession Agreements in the Road Sector

January 03, 2025

Audio

Securities Market Regulator’s Continued Quest Against “Unfiltered” Financial Advice

December 18, 2024

Digital Lending - Part 1 - What’s New with NBFC P2Ps

November 19, 2024

Renewable Roadmap: Budget 2024 and Beyond - Part I

August 26, 2024

NDA Connect

Connect with us at events, conferences and seminars.

NDA Hotline

Click here to view Hotline archives.

Video

Arbitration Amendment Bill 2024: A Few Suggestions | Legally Speaking With Tarun Nangia | NewsX

February 12, 2025

What India’s Transition to New Data
Protection Law Means for Global Businesses

January 23, 2025

India 2025: The Emerging
Powerhouse for Private Equity and
M&A Deals

January 16, 2025
